Legacy Street Names Approved!

by Elizabeth Ford

Our project has taken an important step forward with the recent approval of street names by Henderson County. Submitting street names in a new community is a process led by guidelines and requirements within the county. All of our street names are connected to Legacy or inspired by the Arts & Crafts movement, and we were able to secure Artisan Way and Legacy Village Drive!

We are also in discussion with the USPS on our mail delivery preferences. Meetings with Henderson County on street addressing is also underway. Once we finalize these discussions, we will share all the street names, service delivery method and your specific street address number.

Did You Know?

Just across Jeffress Road from Legacy is a giant sod farm – approximately 500 acres! It's owned by a large company that grows turf called Super-Sod. This is the perfect agriculture product for this location due to its proximity to the French Broad River.

The company started 100 years/5 generations ago as a general store in Georgia selling seed. Today they have sod farms in Georgia, South and North Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama.

Elite Tall Fescue is the grass that is grown in the field across from Legacy – in abundance! It's used by homeowners and commercial locations. It's considered a "cool season" grass which means it is evergreen in winter. The secret is that it grows strongly in the fall and spring; slowing down and stopping growth in warm summer months.

Super-Sod makes its own compost so it can guarantee it's truly organic, which is laid down before seeding. Seed is sown when the temperature is between 40-70 degrees. It takes about a month for the seed to germinate. The first mowing happens a week later. Almost every month the grass is "fed" nutrients of different types to promote strong growth. It then takes 8 -12 months to grow into sod. Eventually the sod is cut into 2'x5' pieces for homeowners or small space users or up to 95' lengths for commercial use!
